

Program 41.04.05 "INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS"

Major: "International Scientific and Technological Relations"

Program Description: The program is based on an original educational concept, which has no analogues in Russia, and is aimed at training specialists in foreign affairs with interdisciplinary knowledge and practical skills in confidently guiding and making decisions in various areas of international activities.

This program is an innovative educational product that makes students competent in the fields of international-political, scientific-technical, informational and economic activity; in the field of systemic, financial- economic and competitive analysis of segments of the world market of high technologies, management of international scientific and technological projects.

Career opportunities

The main areas of specialization after mastering the program:

- Diplomatic and consular service
- International organizations and multilateral institutions
- international trade
- Foreign economic activity in the NFC
- Modern nuclear technology. Nonproliferation Issues. Ecology
- Making foreign policy decisions in the Russian Federation
- Information and analytical support of the foreign policy of the Russian Federation
- International and Information Security
- Compilation of public speeches, development of technologies for their presentation
- Visualization of unstructured data on scientific, technical and socio-economic issues
- Multiagent technologies for target search. Social networks
- Natural language data analysis
- Data Diplomacy
- Data Governance

Semester tuition fee: 123 100 Russian rubles

Program coordinator: Andrey I. Cherkasskiy, Deputy Director, AICherkasskij@mephi.ru

Contact person: Tukumbetova Rufina, info@iirmephi.ru